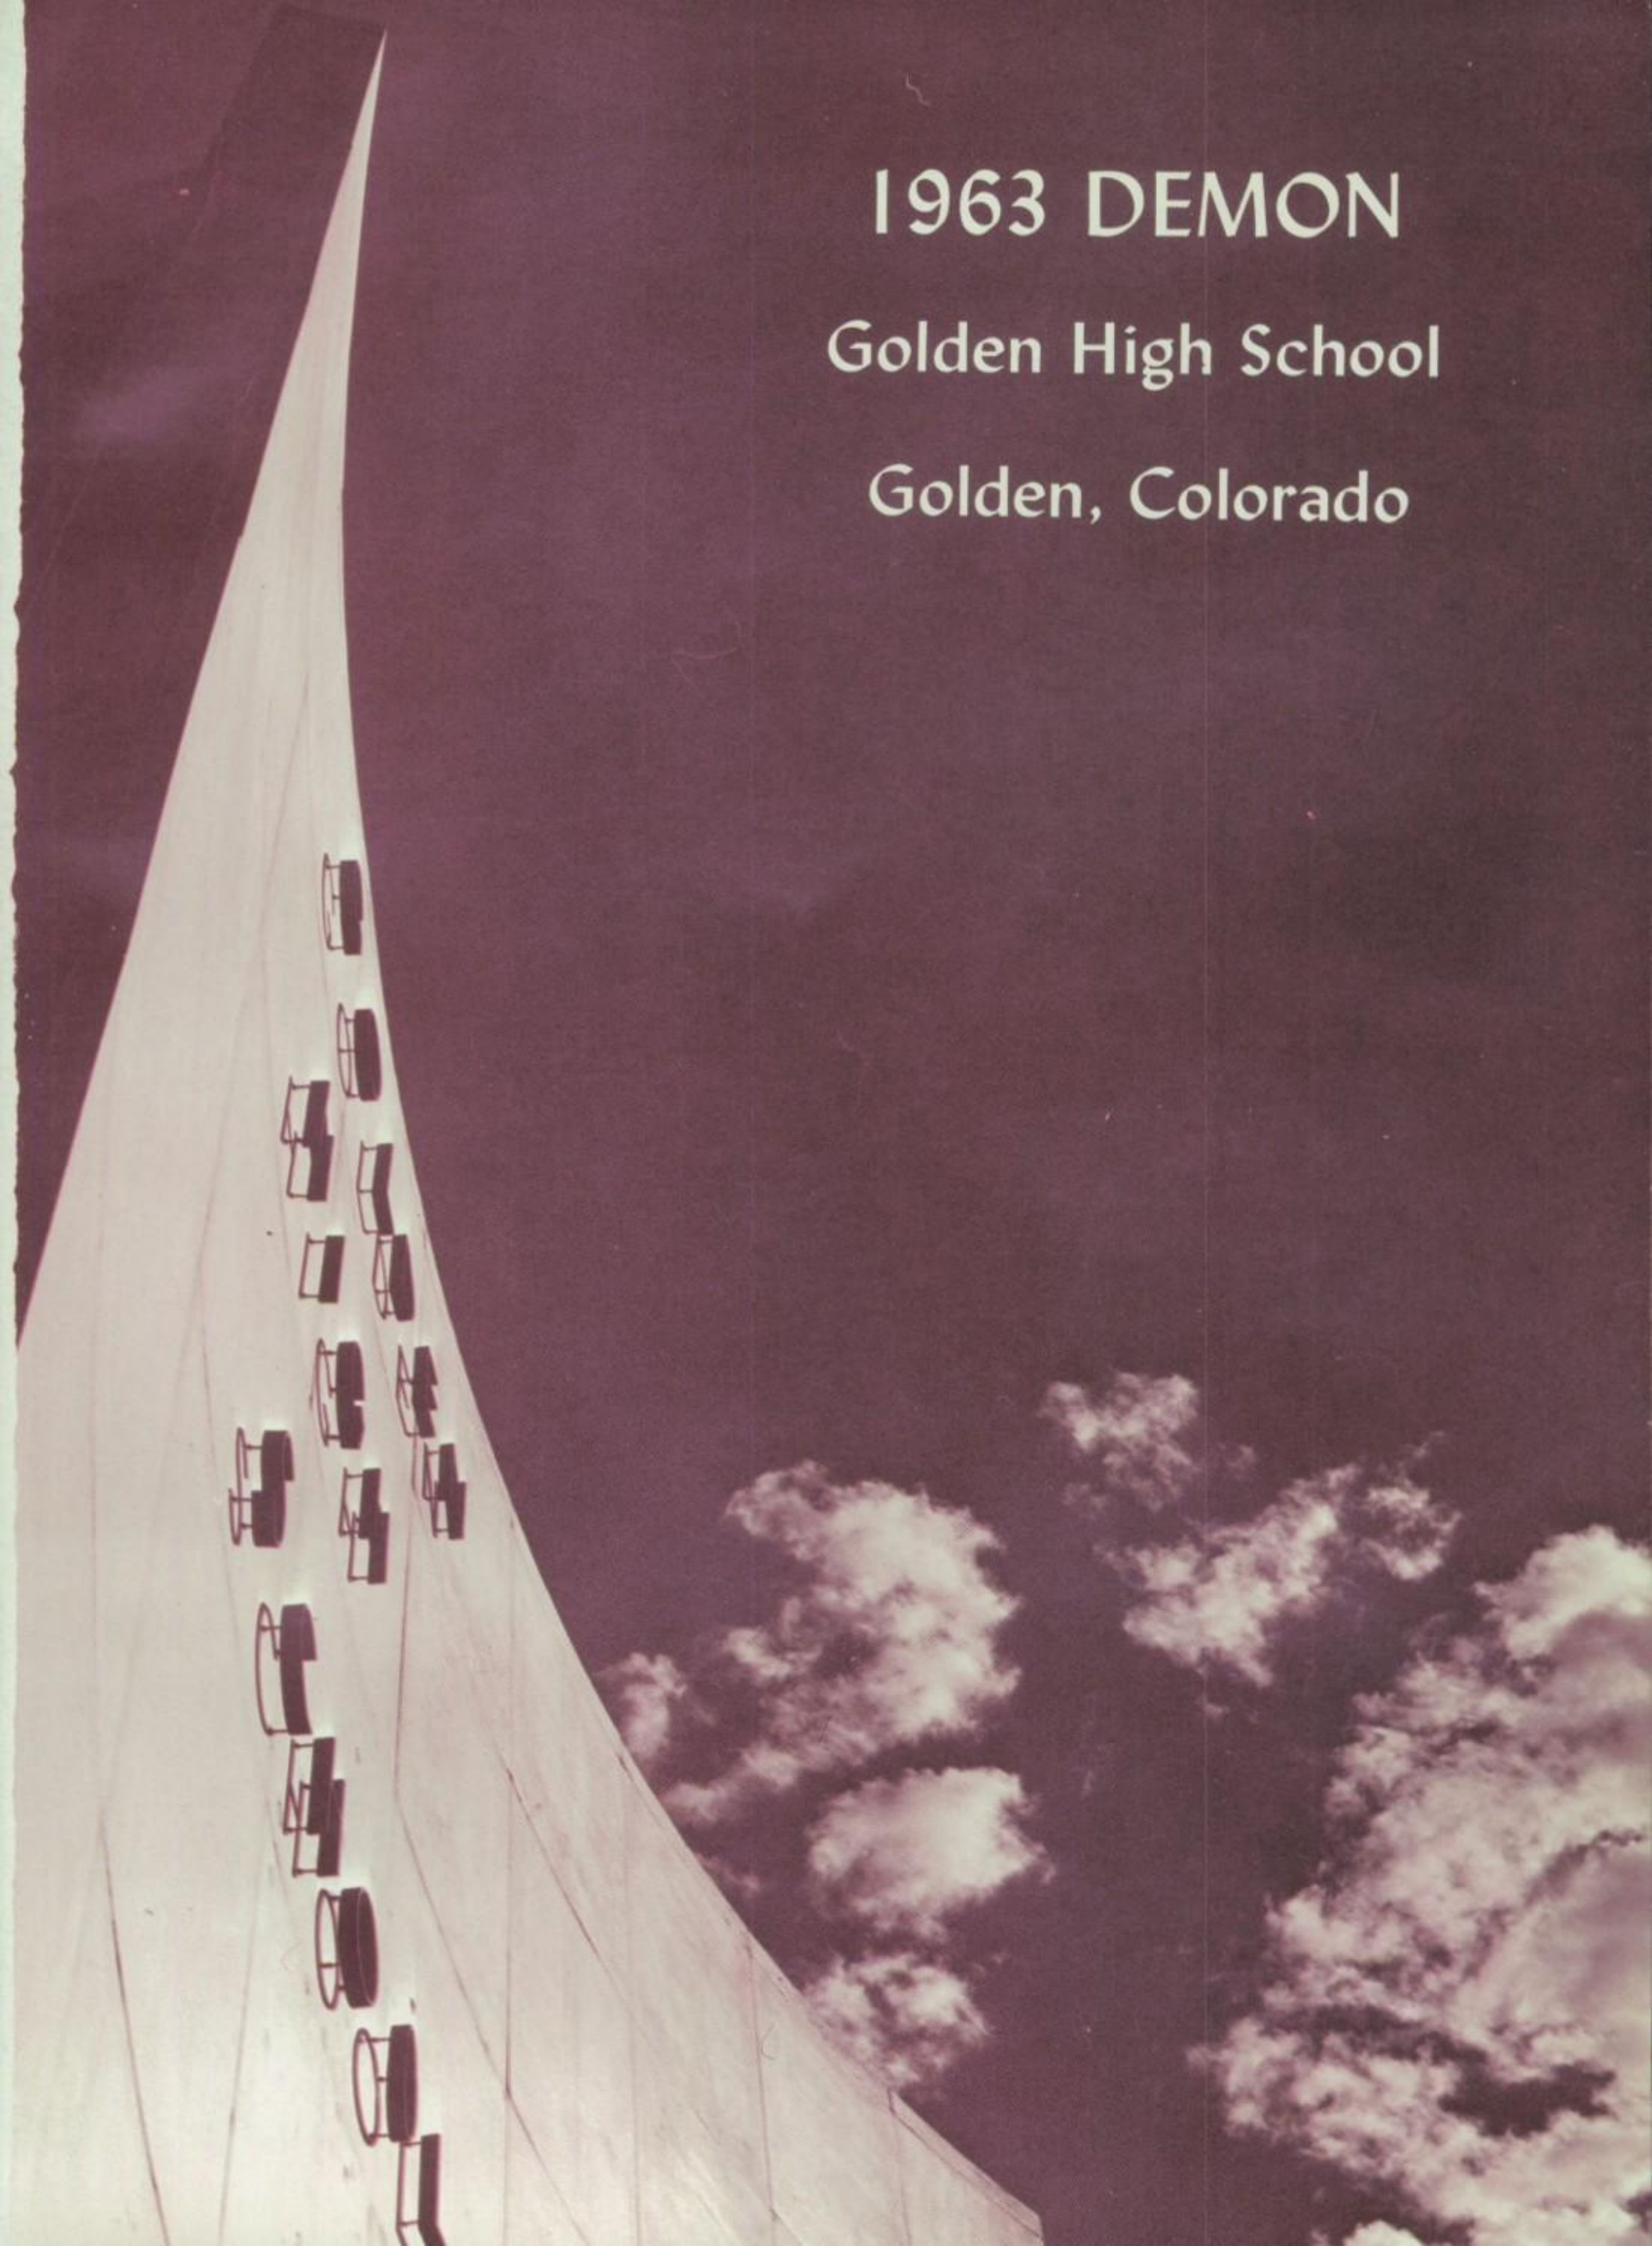
Golden High School

Golden, Colorado



Dedication

Minoru Saijo

Members of the 1963 yearbook staff have chosen to honor a member of the Golden High School student body who exemplifies those qualities which youth of today holds in high esteem.

The courage to master a new language in a quest for knowledge, the hardships endured by being in an entirely new environment away from family and friends, and the willingness to overcome each new challenge cheerfully are traits of which all youth can be proud.

We dedicate our yearbook to you, Minoru Saijo, for spending this year with us at Golden High School. As an exchange student from Japan, you have demonstrated to us the true values of friendship.

At the AFS picnic he outplayed the best and outate the rest.

Minoru is spending his senior year at Golden High School as a result of the efforts of the Golden chapter of American Field Service. Adults of the community assisted students who sold bonds for $1 or more each to raise the necessary money to bring him from his home in Wachi-Machi, on the island of Shikoku.

Minoru's father is a school principal and corresponds with his son in English. Minoru has studied English for four years, but has difficulty in understanding the language because we speak fast and have so many colloquial expressions.

While in Golden Minoru is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Geehan of Wide Acres. Here he is in the Geehan home with Pat who is a sophomore at G. H. S.

DEMON DOIN'S

Sophomore Week

The first week of school was devoted to welcoming sophomores to Golden High. Carrying books for seniors, addressing drinking fountains, and dressing in undignified manner were a few initiation privileges. Non-compliance meant judgments in Kangaroo Court.

The week was climaxed by a bonfire and picnic combined with a pep rally for our first football game.

"I'm a dying cockroach," and "I love seniors."

Yea, for good. Seniors first!

"Courteous," "Voluntary," service by the sophomores (with seniors looking on) provided fuel for the bonfire Thursday evening.

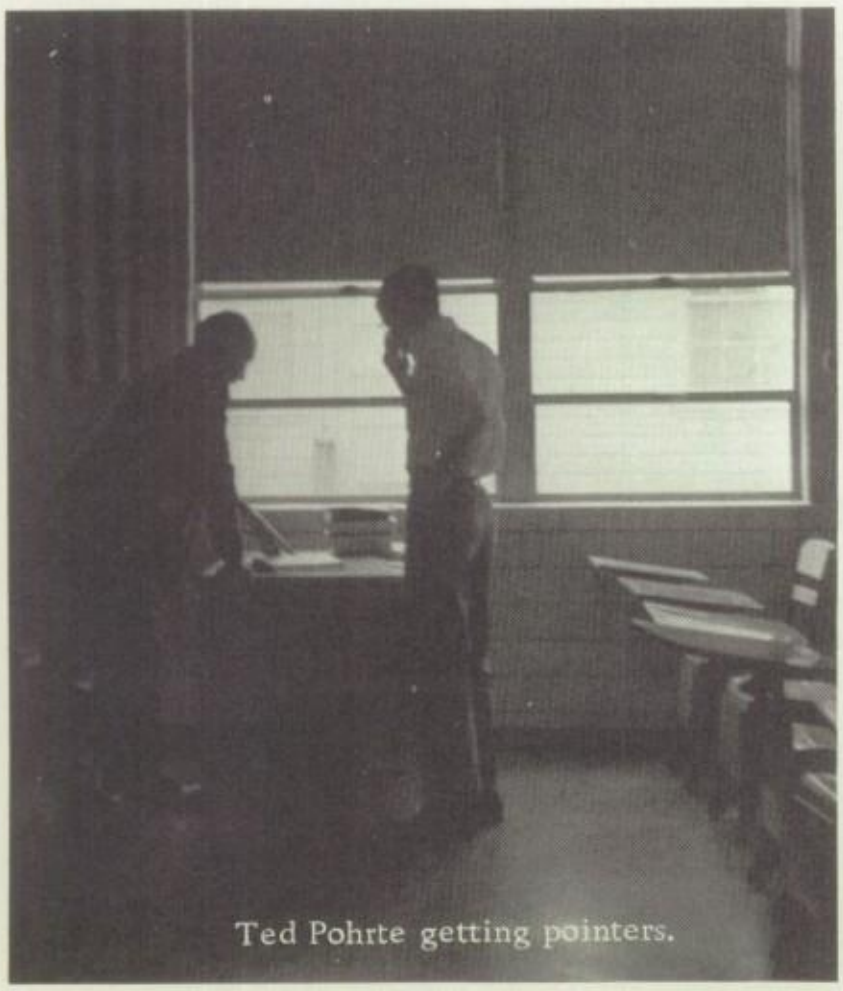
Science Seminar

Penny Frush, Larry Davis, Rick Wahl and Mr. Chapman at an after-school session.

Science Seminar, under the direction of Mr. Chapman, met weekly after school. The Seminar was informal and open to all interested. Meetings varied in nature: presentations by Mr. Chapman, pertinent filmstrips, and spontaneous discussion among members.



Ted Pohrte getting pointers.

The Seminar was organized with the theme, "The Impact of Science on the Culture of Man." To gain a complete picture of man, his development, and his culture, we first considered the very origins of the universe and the earth. Then we discussed the theories of how life first began and how these primitive living forms eventually evolved into the complicated plant and animal structures that inhabit the earth today.

Man finally appeared, confronting perils due to food scarcity, predatory animals, ice ages, and coexistence with others of his own species. To ensure his continued survival, man began to spread over the earth and organize into the communities which have developed into the socially complex world of today. There are thousands of factors that influence the growth of a culture. One of the most important of these in recent years has been that of human reason and man's technological advancement. In the Seminar, we discussed the bearing that scientific thought has had on our society in the past and present.

National Honor Society

The National Honor Society is an organization in the secondary schools of the country for the purpose of stimulating scholarship. It recognizes character, service, leadership, and scholarship as the four attributes most desirable to raise the level of individual performance to a high standard of accomplishment.

In Golden High School, the National Honor Society aims to hold before the school such motives as shall induce others to aspire to scholarly habits and lead forward in all things that shall advance the welfare of the school.

"Let 'er roll" or "Turn it on" are terms frequently used by the members of Audio Visual Club. The members of this group give up their study halls and spend the time aiding the teachers in running the slide projector, tape recorders and overhead projectors. These boys must be ready to accept the responsibility for handling the $7000 worth of equipment, know how to run it and make minor repairs.

Faculty members are grateful to these club members for being "on-the-job" at the precise time they are needed and are indispensable when large groups meet for movies or news films.

Ski Club

Ski Club is an organization for students interested in skiing. Some members are just learning while others are able to take part in competition.

Bus trips have been taken to the Breckenridge Festival and Winter Park and others are planned. A project to buy patches for each member is being undertaken this year. Mr. Lynn Nelson is sponsor.

American Field Service is a private educational organization with chapters throughout the United States. The purpose of each chapter is to promote the international understanding through the exchange of students. Membership is drawn from the school and community.

Each chapter wishing to bring a foreign student to attend the senior year of high school must contribute approximately $700 toward the total cost. They may also raise funds toward the cost of a student selected from his community to go abroad.

Selection of AFS exchange students is based on personality and scholarship.

Pep Club

Treasurer, Patsy Boss; vice president, Junior Weed; and secretary, Thumper Herr.

Golden High School takes pride in its Pep Club which exemplifies the true DEMON spirit. These girls not only activate the school's interest in athletic functions, but they also find time to serve the community and entertain themselves. This year a group of the Pep Club girls sang Christmas carols at the Children's Asthmatic Home and the Casa Del Rest Home.

Later in the year they combined with the Band members to present a very successful school dance.

This is how we decorate.

Fisher Crest

Parfet Crest

German Club at Golden Senior High seeks to develop an appreciation for the German language and German culture. Meetings are generally informal singing sessions with some attention given to new phases which will be of value to anyone planning to visit Germany, Austria or Switzerland. The Christmas program is the highlight of the club's year. A cookie-laden Tannenbaum and apple cider provide refreshment for this December meeting. Members design family crests, two of which are illustrated.

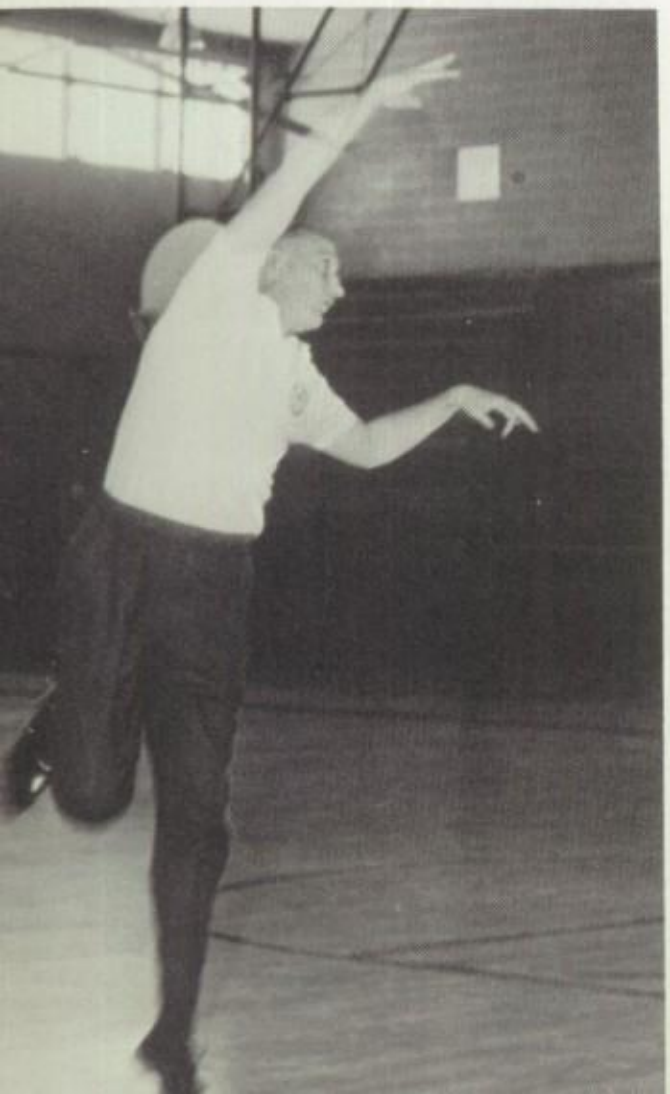
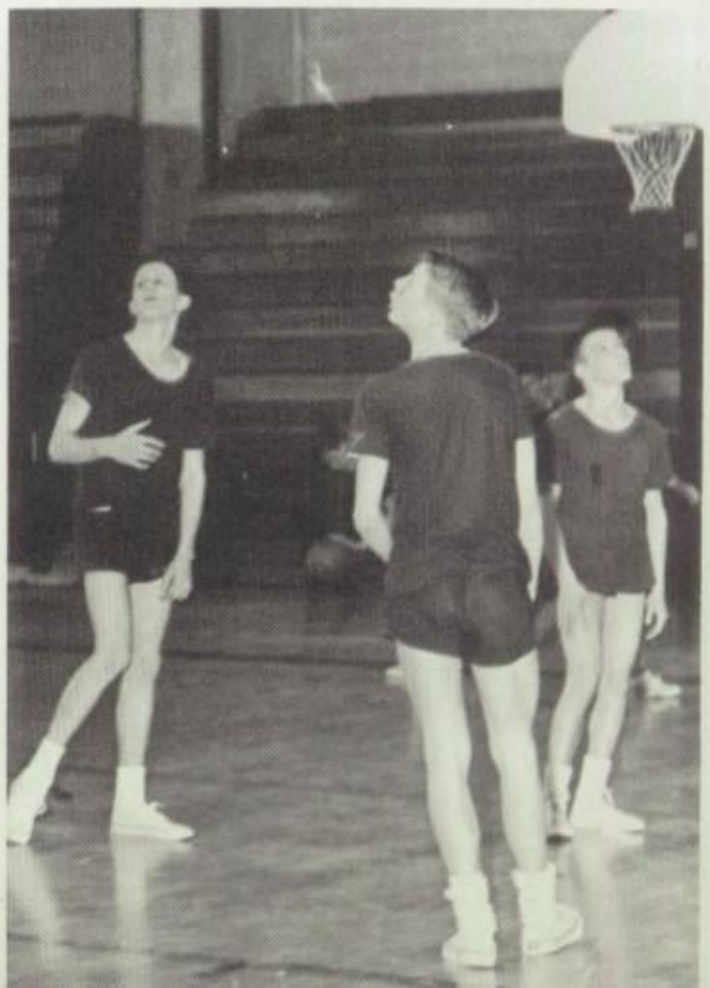
Physical

"The door to physical fitness."

Those who do not make "first string" in competitive sports, have the opportunity to participate in intramurals.



Coach Booton shows how its done.



Students are eager to learn.

Education

Rope climbing is only one of the many skills in which girls taking physical education are tested. Each girl takes skill tests in both team and individual sports.

Twice a year the AAHPER (American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation) tests are given. These seven tests are then compared with national, county, and school scores.

One of the special projects of GHS is the training of girls to become basketball officials. Those who receive an intramural or associate rating may officiate in whatever school they enroll.

One of the most popular activities is the gymnastic program. Trampolining, parallel bars, the horse, stall bars, balance beam, and springboard require a great deal of skill and give a great deal of satisfaction to many girls.

The intramural program is an important phase of girls' physical education. Three days a week after school, much school spirit between the classes in the various sports is shown. The Seniors are always the top contenders in any sport.

Outstanding Demons

Under the direction of Al Perrella the Golden High woodworking class placed first of some 40 schools in the state Industrial Arts Fair. Above are pictured Don Palmer, Jack Lawson, John Derwent, John Perkins, and Harold Stahl. These seniors were the core of the industrial arts department. After deciding at the beginning of the year to take first in the state, they worked to accomplish that goal.

At the fair the projects of Fred Bandimer, Charles Casper, John Derwent, Gary Jessen, Mike McGuire, and Paul Rice won superior ratings, and the projects of Rick Adams, Ken Hottinger, David McGirl, John Perkins, and Joe Shirey were rated as excellent.

Diana Rossman, Kristy Venckus, Mary Lou Mayo, and Rita Bolitho were honored at a banquet at the Continental Denver for having achieved perfect scores on two NOMA spelling and math tests.

At the state JCL Convention contests are held in various areas of classical study. Jim Gotta placed first in Grammar II and was first among all grammar contestants of any level. Linda Conzett achieved first in Advanced Level Vocabulary and was second among all contestants. Larry Davis was second in Advanced Level Derivatives and second of all contestants. Nancy Hughes placed first in the Poster contest. William Spaniel was first in Roman Life II and first among all contestants.

Linda Conzett, Diane Fisher, Rusty Keenan, Penny Frush, Priscilla Holland, and Mike McGinnis (not shown) participated in an independent study program this year. As part of their school schedule, these students did independent reading and research and took various field trips rather than attending all regular classes.

Dennis Sullivan participated in the annual All-State Band on the campus of Colorado State College, Greeley. Dennis was selected by audition from some 400 trumpet players throughout the state and ranked seventh of the 25 trumpet players in All-State Band.

Rae Ann Bromfield and John Fodor, who play the violin, were selected by state-wide audition to participate in All-State Orchestra at the University of Colorado. This is a highly select group, and to be chosen as sophomores is quite an honor. John served as one of the concertmasters for the orchestra.

Joel Merrin, Elaine Oppenlander, Mike McGinnis, Cynthia Kotwica, and Dennis Sullivan were selected to participate in a clinic band at Gunnison.

Minoru Saijo, Richard Wahl, and Dave McCoy made the top three scores on the 1963 Annual Mathematics Contest. Minoru achieved the highest score, Dave was second, and Rick third. The composite score of these three was sent in as a team score to compare with other high schools. Golden ranked 30th among 125 high schools in Colorado, Wyoming, and Utah.

Jill and Paul recall our Sophomore days.

Our Junior year came to life with the help of Pris and Bill.

We laughed and cried when Maria and Dave reminded us of those great Senior days.

"The Chancellors", George, Dave, and Charlie, jazzed up the evening with a bit of rock 'n roll.
